Not just information. Intelligence.

SMART

smart decisions

Signal IVSSM

Verify identities and know in advance who you're dealing with. We'll check your data against billions of records and let you know if there are any red flags you should be aware of. Our comprehensive, all-in-one abilities make multiple resources seem prehistoric. Armed with the best information possible, your portfolio will reflect the benefits of improved decision-making. And you'll save time previously spent manually researching mismatches.

smart collections

DEBTOR DiscoverySM

Find people and assets faster than ever. There's no place to hide with this amazing search developed specifically to address the needs of credit and collections professionals. Locate more debtors, obtain hard-to-find numbers and identify relatives, assets and business affiliations. Even 150-day old accounts can be revived thanks to our unique historical linking capabilities. Three levels of usage let you control expenses by choosing the report that fits your needs from early cycle collections and preliminary verifications to final stage delinquency.

smart vendor relationships

Vendor Screen PLUSTM

Verify credentials and licensing of potential vendors and find out about bankruptcies, liens, criminal court records, high risk addresses, insurance coverage and other details that will help you make confident business decisions. By having a better understanding of the people with whom you do business, you'll protect your companies' assets and avoid litigation. The Vendor Screen Alert feature offers added security by monitoring license expirations and letting you know immediately should there be any change in status.

SERVICE BACKED

We've raised the bar in service by providing online, 24/7 knowledgeable tech support and service, as well as the following:

Batch Services

We're willing and able to scale to your requirements. The company with ongoing needs will appreciate our Batch Services. Our Batch Services save you time and money by offering standard and custom solutions for high volume searches and special projects. This economical alternative to conducting record-by-record research processes thousands of records and delivers them in flexible formats that easily integrate into your system. Rather than tying up your staff repeating tedious tasks, we'll deliver the results you need daily, weekly or monthly. Append and/or verify information, find debtors, remove duplicates, show relationships and update records regularly, easily and inexpensively.

Business Information Services (BIS)

When you need up-to-the-minute data, one of our over 1,500 professional researchers will quickly and accurately find what you need to know. They'll go into the field for the latest data and combine that with other verification sources to create the exact report you need. When important decisions are at stake, it makes sense to get the latest and most precise information possible.
